- * [REDACTED] Comment. Confirms that the Witzleben Kaserne, which is also referred to as barracks installation on Ulmenstrasse, quarters a naval unit whose personnel are on guard duty at the local shipyards. [REDACTED] estimate of 500 to 600 troops probably referred to all troops stationed there. [REDACTED] specified them as belonging to a guard company, a naval harbor detachment, and the naval harbor kommandatura.

- * [REDACTED] Comment. Lieutenant Colonel Levshenkov (fnu), who was reported for the first time, probably was chief of the naval harbor detachment because, in a previous report, the same source stated the chief of the naval harbor detachment was a lieutenant colonel and the chief of the naval harbor kommandatura a colonel. [REDACTED] A, which is reported for the first time, is not believed to belong to the naval harbor kommandatura which, in a report of January 1951, was reported to have
